

Hot Glass, Horses & Heroes

3 Day/ 2 Night Tour

Winchester, Staunton, Lexington

Winchester, Staunton and Lexington in the Shenandoah Valley have played a large part in America's heritage. From the time of Washington's early life a surveyor in the frontier to Stonewall

Jackson defending the Valley from the Yankees to the influx of artists and the horse lovers.

Experience the fascinating story of this truly beautiful part of our country while you learn about the many heroes that walked the same street you will including George Washington. A carriage ride in Lexington will take you back to the 19th century when life moved just a bit slower. Learn about this "strange" professor at VMI in the 1850's who was thought of by students in most unflattering ways. This gentleman rose to such popularity during the Civil War that his men would follow him anywhere, his name was Stonewall Jackson.

Meet a 21st century artist in Staunton who is a famous glass blower. Enjoy a special demonstration of glass blowing and have the opportunity to purchase one of his creations.

Woodrow Wilson, the only non politician President was born here and his Library is a must. A sometimes forgotten Presidency he is credited with outstanding vision especially when introducing the League of Nation which was the forerunner of the United Nations. This is an action packed tour.

Highlights Include

- Museum of the Shenandoah Valley
- Tour of Washington's Surveying Headquarters
- Special dinner with entertainment
- A Carriage Ride in Lexington
- Tour of Woodrow Wilson Birthplace & Library
- Wine & Cheese tasting at local winery
- Theatre Performance
- Special Glassblowing demonstration at Sunspots Gallery
- Stop at Buffalo Springs Herb Farm
- Guided tours in Winchester and Lexington

Contact Civil War Tours.net
1-888-681-5333